PLEASE JOIN US AT THE MAGNIFICENT CHATSWORTH

We are delighted to invite you to join us at our 2012 Annual Fair, which is being held at one of Britain's most spectacular stately homes — Chatsworth, one of the best-loved and most magnificent historic houses in the country and one of the premier tourist attractions in the Peak District. Renowned for its splendour, Chatsworth has also been used as a film location for numerous productions, including The Duchess, Pride & Prejudice and Wolf Man.

Many of our famous brands will be there, including Border Fine Arts, Lilliput Lane, Cherished Teddies, Tuskers and Beatrix Potter, so there will be plenty of choice for your next purchases! Plus there's lots of fun planned, including a massive Pass the Parcel, lots of competitions and a host of mix & mingle entertainers.

There is so much to take part in this year, both on our designated Fair site and Chatsworth House & Gardens, should you wish to visit them as well (details further on). We do hope that you can join us for what promises to be a fantastic weekend. Keep an eye on our website for further information as it becomes available, or contact our dedicated Customer Service team for more details.

We look forward to seeing you!

A FREE GIFT, JUST FOR ATTENDING!

An exclusive pearlised hanging Christmas ornament of the Hunting Tower — a holiday cottage on the Chatsworth Estate — will be given free to every ticket holder on entry.

CHATSWORTH

Chatsworth is home to the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire, and has been passed down through sixteen generations of the Cavendish family. The house's architecture and collections have been evolving for five centuries. In 2012, you will see the newly-restored south and west façades of the house with beautiful clean stonework and luminous gold detailing.

The house has over thirty rooms to explore, from the magnificent Painted Hall, to the family-used chapel, regal State Rooms, newly restored Sketch Galleries and beautiful Sculpture Gallery. In the Guest Bedrooms, meet an Edwardian Lady's Maid who will reveal the secrets of her mistress's suitcase of clothes, and you can even dress up in one of the period costumes.

Chatsworth also houses one of Europe's most significant art collections. The diverse collection is continually added to, encompassing Old Masters to contemporary ceramics and artefacts from ancient Egypt, through to cutting edge modern sculpture and digital portraits.

GARDEN

Having evolved over more than 450 years, the 105-acre Chatsworth garden continues to change today. There is plenty to discover at every turn, including permanent sculptures to be found, and a variety of special exhibitions in 2012.

The famous waterworks include the 300-year-old Cascade, the Trough Waterfall in the Rockery and the enormous gravity-fed Emperor Fountain. As well as the huge Maze, the Rockery and the Rose, Cottage and Kitchen Gardens, there are also over five miles of walks with rare trees, shrubs, streams and ponds to discover.

Visitors are encouraged to explore the garden at their leisure. There are no signs saying 'keep off the grass', and dogs on leads are also very welcome.

THE PARK

The 1,000-acre park on the banks of the River Derwent, designed by 'Capability' Brown in the 1760s, is one of the most beautiful and historic man-made landscapes in Britain. You are welcome to walk, picnic and play in the park. The park at Chatsworth is a farmed, food-producing landscape. The grass is a crop grazed by sheep, cattle and deer; the river provides fish and the woods, game and timber.

STAND WOOD

This historic woodland behind the house provides an impressive backdrop, and contains a rich diversity of trees and wildlife. There are spectacular views out across the park and important man-made features include the Hunting Tower (not open to visitors), the lakes which supply the waterworks in the garden, the aqueduct and the Souter stone, both part of Paxton's nineteenth-century rock and water work in the landscape around Chatsworth. Footpaths also lead out onto the moor to the east.

SHOPS

Chatsworth's five gift shops provide hours of delight and retail therapy, offering a wide selection of beautiful and exclusive products inspired by different aspects of the house and grounds.

HIGHLIGHTS IN THE HOUSE DURING THE FAIR WEEKEND

The China Closet will be transformed into a display space for Old Master drawings for the 'Masterpieces from the Devonshire Collection', the first of a rolling programme of displays to include drawings by Leonardo, Rembrandt, Raphael and Van Dyck.

The recently-opened New Gallery will add a dash of glamour, celebrating the glory days of theatricals, society parties and shooting weekends in 'A Hundred Years of House Parties', an exhibition looking at life above and below stairs. Find out how they organised a family Christmas with over one hundred guests!

DISCOUNT

Treat yourself to a souvenir or two in all of Chatsworth's gift shops with a special 10% discount for all Fair Badge wearers who spend over £25.

DISABLED ACCESS

Disabled permit holders will be given priority parking as close to the Fair site as is possible and buggies will be operating between parking areas and the grounds should you require this service.

Chatsworth has always prided itself on the welcome it offers all visitors. Full access to the main visitor route in the house is available to visitors using wheelchairs, via a lift and other arrangements. The number of wheelchairs in use on the top floor of this historic building has to be monitored for safety and enjoyment, so book as soon as you can. There is good access to the garden, farmyard, shops and restaurants; electric scooters can be borrowed for outside. For access requirements, please phone before your visit — 01246 565300.

WHAT DOES YOUR TICKET PRICE COVER?

Your ticket will give you full access to all of the Unesco Brand areas of the Fair.

Once again we are offering separate ticket options — both at special reduced prices! So, whether you just want to attend our Fair or want to add tours of the house and garden, you can take advantage of special reduced prices.

We have negotiated an exceptional 50% discount should you wish to tour the house and gardens. Normal entry to the house and gardens is £20 per adult, you will only pay £10! You need pay no money now, simply show your Fair Badge on the day at the Chatsworth ticket office to get your special entry price to join the regular tours which take place at regular intervals throughout both days.

DOGS

Dogs are welcome in the grounds and gardens, but must be kept on a lead at all times. Assistance dogs are welcome in the house, garden and park. Puppies in assistance dog training are welcome in the house, garden and park, as long as they are house trained.

REMEMBER...

NORMAL ENTRY PRICE FOR THE CHATSWORTH HOUSE & GARDENS IS £20, BUT ANNUAL FAIR TICKET HOLDERS WILL ONLY PAY £10 ON THE DAY!

YOUR BUTTON BADGE WILL ALSO GIVE YOU A 10% DISCOUNT ON ALL PURCHASES IN ANY OF CHATSWORTH'S GIFT SHOPS.

DISCOUNTED TICKETS WILL NOT BE AVAILABLE ON THE DAY. NORMAL CHATSWORTH HOUSE & GARDENS ADMISSION PRICES WILL BE CHARGED ON THE DAY.
